STATE APPROVES ANTIOCH STREET IMPROVEMENT PLAN

Gas Tax Will Pay for Sewers, Gutters, Curb on Harden, Spafford

State approval for the improvement of Harden and Spafford streets by the installation of curbs, gutters, and storm sewers, was received today by Village Clerk R. L. Murrie in a letter from the Division of Highways of the State Department of Public Works and Buildings. The document bears the signature of Ernest Lieberman, chief highway engineer. Funds for the improvement will come out of Antioch's share of the state gasoline tax, and approval for the expenditure followed a resolution passed February 6 by the village board setting forth in what manner the money was to be used. Any municipality may obtain its share of the gas tax money to be used for specified improvements, but it must be so spent.

Under the law the state tax of three cents is divided, one to the state, one to the county, and one to township and municipality, prorated according to population. Antioch's share for the current year is estimated at $1,600.

Antioch Township CWA Workers Dropped

Village Applies for More Hours to Complete Parkway Ave.

Antioch township is feeling the pinch caused by the demobilization program of CWA workers by Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, according to Supervisor William A. Rosling, who said that all of the thirty-eight workmen on the township CWA road projects has received notice that Monday would be their last day of work.

These notices were sent out by Superintendent of Highways, R. M. Lobdell, of Waukegan. Mr. Rosling said that he had received no official notice himself.

This action is in accordance with the administration's plan of gradually demobilizing the huge CWA army by dropping first southern workers and those employed in rural areas. Although reports from Washington appear conflicting, the general understanding, as explained by Walter C. Gaede, newly appointed county administrator of the CWA, is that 30 per cent of the workers are to be released this week, and a ten per cent cut ordered every week hereafter.

No Cut at H. S.
No cut has yet been ordered for CWA workers on the high school project, according to L. O. Bright, principal. The grade school project was completed yesterday.

Work on the village CWA project of street improvement ceased February 15, according to Mayor George B. Bartlett, who said that all money and allotted hours had been exhausted by that date. Application for six weeks' work for 24 men has been made, but due to a change in forms, there is some delay in having them approved. Under the old ruling truck drivers were hired with their trucks, Mayor Bartlett explained, but the new forms provide for separate employing of drivers and trucks.

The corrected forms were prepared by Engineer A. L. Ball of North Chicago, who said they probably would be sent through the Chicago office and possibly to Washington before approval could be secured. Mayor Bartlett expressed himself as confident that the additional hours would be granted within a week or ten days, inasmuch as this is considered one of the more worthwhile projects.

The original project called for a mile and three-quarters of improved streets. Thus far about a mile has been completed. Work on Parkway avenue will commence as soon as approval of additional hours is received.

Men's Club Holds Lincoln Dinner

In mentioning fearlessness as one of Lincoln's outstanding characteristics, Rev. Rex Shims, in his talk before the Men's Club at their dinner held at the M. E. Church Thursday evening, related incidents to illustrate the Liberator's desire always to do right regardless of the consequences.

The sketch of Lincoln's life also included mention of his broad sympathy and humor under all circumstances, and of his political life and intellectual pursuits. Among the guests was Lawrence Doolittle, Republican candidate for sheriff, who spoke of the interest which he took in that office. W. C. Petty was in charge of the program for the meeting, and the dinner was served by the ladies of the M. E. Church.

The next meeting will be held Thursday evening, March 15, at the M. E. Church.

MRS. SARAH EMMONS PASSES NINETY-SIXTH BIRTHDAY MILESTONE

Recalls Many Changes Here Since Pioneer Life on the Farm

Mrs. Sarah Emmons, Antioch's oldest resident, celebrated her 96th birthday Saturday, February 17, by receiving a number of guests, including her picture taken by a Chicago newspaper photographer. Twenty-three guests called during the afternoon, and were served cake and tea. Two huge cakes, an angel food cake and a sunshine were resplendent with 96 glowing candles.

Birthday greetings and cards galore were received by Mrs. Emmons, as well as many gifts, including a fern which pleased her exceedingly, as she is particularly fond of flowers. Born in New York.

Mrs. Emmons recalled some of the changes which have taken place during her long life. She was born in Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 17, 1838, and came to Bristol with her parents when about four years old. She has spent her entire life in Antioch since coming here upon the death of her parents when she was seven years of age. She made her home with the parents of her future husband, Rookwell Emmons, whom she married November 16, 1857.

The first school she attended was the Antioch school, after which she enrolled at the Emmons school which was erected that year and named for Myron Emmons who donated the grounds for the school building.

Recalls Civil War
Always in good health, Mrs. Emmons endured the privations of the pioneer days with fortitude and cheerfulness, even driving the reaper to cut all the grain on their farm during the Civil War.

NEW PING PONG DOUBLES CHAMPS ARE ACCLAIMED

The Antioch ping pong doubles champions, R. E. Sorenson and Joseph Panowski, lost their title last Friday night in a little-match series of seven games to Jack Panowski and Ed Sorenson. The new champs have been menacing the former title holders for two months.

A large gallery was present to witness the matches, which proved exciting every minute. Jack and Ed narrowly winning four games. The score of the deciding game was 21-19.

R. E. Sorenson lays claim to being Antioch's single champion, by virtue of repeated victories over all players who have offered opposition. All challenges will be accepted, Ray says.

The Antioch Ping Pongers meet Friday evenings at the grade school. Memberships are now open.

ASK INCREASE IN NON - HIGH SCHOOL LEVY

Board Asks Legislature for 25 % Increase; Mrs. Bacon Opposes

A resolution asking that the state legislature extend its maximum of a fifty cent levy on the $100 valuation to 75 cents, was passed Saturday night by the Lake county non-high school board by a vote of two to one.

Oliver Meelum of Lake Bluff and City Judge Theodore Forby of Zion voted in favor of the measure and Mrs. Bernice Bacon, of Round Lake, president of the board, opposed the increase.

Claim More Funds Needed
According to the board members voting for the increase, it is impossible to raise sufficient funds through taxation to pay tuition charges demanded by high schools, who on February 7 passed a resolution providing for the absolute refusal of admitting pupils from non-high school districts unless a more equitable tuition charge can be made.

Mrs. Bacon opposed the increase for a number of reasons which she set forth in a statement to the press. Mrs. Bacon, who is also secretary of the Central Lake County Taxpayers' Association, charges that taxes generally have become excessive through injudicious spending on the part of the tax-eaters generally and that the only way to lighten the load is not any increase in taxes.

Cites Over-lapping Charges
Pointing out some wasteful practices, Mrs. Bacon said:

"The powers of our board are very limited and as bills are presented, about the only thing we can do is to pay them. The law states specifically that only two per cent depreciation shall be charged on brick buildings, but it is known that some high schools in figuring per capita costs have included repairs, replacements, and new equipment, and at the same time charge a depreciation (over-lapping charges). Some schools figure the depreciation but once there by keeping the per capita cost at a reasonable figure.

"There has been great discrepancies in figures. Under Maintenance of Plant Grant in 1930 and 1931 this cost was listed at $481, but this item in 1932 and 1933 was $2,687. Under the same item in 1930 and 1931 listed $77.93 as this expense, and in 1932 and 1933 it had grown to the sum of $2,193.79. Our board allowed $500 when refiguring the bill and when the treasurer's report of that district was published library costs were listed as about $327. This was when I was first able to prove that certain high schools were taking advantage of the non-high school board.

"Deerfield has insisted each year on charging a five per cent depreciation, and when the board refuses the bill at the legal 2 per cent, the high school board at Deerfield simply adds the difference to the ever mounting bill which they claim the non-high school district owes them.

Sees No Relief in Increased Tax
"Will increasing the tax rate to 75 cents correct the present situation? And how long before this will be an inadequate sum? Is justice being done the high schools that are trying to establish a reasonable per capita cost?

"In one district last year the board paid $118 per pupil while the non-high school board was asked from $125 to $210. There are cases of pupils not eligible to tuition who have been accepted in high schools at much lower figures than have been charged the non-high school board.

"I believe that every taxpayer in the county is willing to pay an increased tax rate if he is shown that the per capita cost is justified.

"Too much of our school legislation has been left to the Teachers' Organizations of Illinois and the result has been an ever mounting tax burden until the taxpayer has reached the point where he cannot pay or will not. Any proposed increase at this time should receive most careful consideration."

Nearly Forty Enroll In Nursing School

Much Interest Is Displayed at Introductory Lesson by Mrs. Boyd

The introductory lesson of the six-weeks Civil Works Nursing school sponsored by the Parent-Teachers' Association under the auspices of the Red Cross was given yesterday afternoon at the high school by Mrs. Boyd, local registered nurse.

Thirty-nine have registered for the course, forming almost two full classes, according to Mrs. W. C. Petty, president of the Antioch P. T. A. Of these, about ten are from the rural district. Afternoon classes are held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon from 2:15 to 4:15, and evening classes on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, from 7 to 9 p. m.

The course, as outlined, is very complete, Mrs. Petty says, and includes a written examination at the end. Those who desire to do so may purchase textbooks, although it is not compulsory. The course is open without charge.

Antioch is but one of six centers in Lake county exclusive of Waukegan and North Chicago, where a nursing school is being sponsored. Others are at Lake Villa, Fox Lake, Grayslake, Gurnee, and Ingleside. Eleven are located within Waukegan and North Chicago. As much interest has been manifested by the women in the other districts as in Antioch, according to reports.

Mrs. Margaret Brogan Passes Away Suddenly

Death Come as Shock to Her Many Relatives and Friends

WAS ACTIVE CHURCH MEMBER

Antioch residents this week are mourning the death of Mrs. Margaret Brogan, 76, who passed away at her home at 1034 S. Main street Friday morning, following a sudden hemorrhage of the brain the previous day.

Mrs. Brogan has been a resident of Antioch for nearly fifty years, during which time she has made many friends and acquaintances to whom her sudden passing comes as a sorrowful shock.

Margaret Ellen Haddican was born March 3, 1858, in Salem Township, Kenosha County, Wis., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Haddican, now deceased. She received her education in Kenosha county. Her marriage to Terrence Brogan of Antioch occurred May 5, 1878, and since that time she has made her home in Antioch. Her husband preceded her in death, passing away March 12, 1899.

Active at St. Peter's
Always an active member of St. Peter's church and of the Altar and Rosary Society, she was one of the original workers for the erection of the first Catholic church on Victoria street. She has been a member of the Royal Neighbor Lodge for about thirty-five years and was accorded membership in the Royal Neighbor Court of Honor.

Funeral services were conducted from St. Peter's Church at 1 o'clock Monday morning, the Rev. Francis Flaherty officiating, assisted by the Rev. Dan Frawley, Chicago, and the Rev. Joseph Savage, Deerfield. Burial is in the Mount Carmel cemetery. Surviving her are two daughters, Mabel of Antioch, and Mrs. P. J. Hurlgen, Kenosha; three sons, Claude and Clarence, Antioch, and Frank, who arrived from his home in Moberly, S. Dakota, to attend the funeral; and a brother, Thomas McGreal, Antioch.

H. Rosings Report Speedy Trip South

Make Trip to Eau Gallie, Florida, in Two Days' Driving

Six hundred seventy-three miles of motoring in one day is no mean record, as any one who has traveled the highways extensively can aver. The following figures on their trip to Florida were received from Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rosing by William A. Rosling:

"We left Antioch at 4:45 a. m. February 3, with 1170 miles on the car, and stopped at Chattanooga, Tenn., at ten o'clock the same night, with a mileage of 1843. That makes 673 miles we traveled that day in 17 hours and 15 minutes. We made five stops for gas, one stop for a drink, and two stops for meals, losing three hours and ten minutes. So our driving time was 14 hours and 5 minutes, and we averaged about 48 miles per hour.

We left Chattanooga at 6:30 a. m. February 3. We made six stops for gas, a stop to send a wire ahead to tell the folks that we would be there that night, and two stops for meals. We reached Eau Gallie, Florida, at 11:15 the same night, which made 16 hours and 45 minutes for the day. During our stops we lost three hours, so our driving time was 13 hours and 15 minutes. The mileage on our car was 2,475; we made 632 miles that day, averaging about 45 miles per hour.

"We used 88 gallons of gas. It was just 1305 miles down here, so we made almost 15 miles to the gallon. (We used no oil.) We traveled from 60 to 80 miles per hour much of the time. Joe Patrovsky says he made about 17 miles to the gallon."

H. E. Rosling.

BETTER BUSINESS AHEAD

In spite of all the obstacles to be overcome, the signs of better business are growing more numerous. A short time ago one of the best of all of them appeared—the report on mail order sales, which is a sure-fire barometer of the rural purse. Sears, Roebuck showed 30 per cent improvement over last year, and Montgomery Ward 45 per cent. Ward's retail stores, operated in large and medium-sized cities, were up 21 per cent. Its mail order department, which serves the very small town and the farm, was 80 per cent ahead. There's hardly an industry that isn't feeling the change. The terrific jump in automobile business is responsible for much of the betterment, inasmuch as a thousand other industries contribute to the making, selling, repairing and servicing of cars. The department stores are likewise doing much better.

THINGS ONE REMEMBERS

The air is filled with theoretical schemes to stabilize industry and agriculture.

We wonder if what industry needs most isn't more good, old-fashioned character, integrity and experience in owners and operators of various properties.

We are moved to make these remarks after looking over a statement of the Bank of California, that has been run strictly as a bank—no side issues—no frills—since 1864.

It has paid its 10 per cent annual dividend, depression or no depression, and generally an extra 2 per cent. Its ratio of capital to deposits is 1 to 5.13.

Can legislation produce that kind of bank management?

A good practical farmer that we know, bought a team for $300 a few years ago, when his neighbor bought a tractor for $3,000. The "horse farmer" has made a consistent profit out of his farm, even during the depression, and his team is as efficient today as when he bought it. The "tractor farmer" is broke—too much capital invested for the possible earning power of the land. The tractor is on the scrap heap.

As with banks, so with farming; their salvation depends on men who "know the business." All the "relief measures" in the world cannot save the inefficient, the wasteful and the ignorant from failure.

RECOVERY DEPENDENT ON

PRIVATE INITIATIVE

Roger Babson has been long respected for his statements on economic trends when he believes that facts and statistics justify an opinion. In a copyrighted article from Babson Park, Florida, he now points out the dangers of our menacing tax bill.

He shows that the rapidity of circulation of money is the key to prosperity, and that the velocity of circulation depends upon the confidence and willingness of those who have capital and courage to start new enterprises and take risks.

He lists basic industries that are still in deep depression because those who understand such industries refuse to risk money for development unless they have confidence that their income will not be taxed away from them.

"It is, therefore, vitally important," says Mr. Babson, "for every citizen interested in restoring employment, to fight against new and increased taxes."

Mr. Babson praises the President for his endeavor to raise prices to the 1926 level, but he points out that he should realize that to do this, he must have "the same confidence, enthusiasm and willingness to take risks among business people, as existed in 1926."

"Instead of holding back recovery by discouraging private initiative, the government should offer those with capital some incentive to risk it in new enterprises and new building. Every citizen can help by appealing to his senators and congressmen as follows:

"1. Protest against increase in corporate taxes, income taxes and surtaxes.

"2. Urge that a certain percentage of funds spent by individuals for new building or new business be deductible from income surtax payments.

"3. Protest against increases in taxes of all types."

AFRAID TO LIVE

Claudius E. Wade, Director, Chicago College of Commerce

How things do change! A few years ago we heard much about men being afraid to die, but a cursory reading of the current philosophical literature might easily create the impression that men are now becoming afraid to live.

The problems that humanity now confronts—social, economic, political, and religious, then the vast injustices that must be righted—have so terrified some minds until their only hope is to be allowed to disappear and forever be unconscious of what is going on.

A prominent lawyer, when asked on Thanksgiving Day what he was thankful for, replied, that he was thankful that he was almost through and would shortly enter that sleep from which he would never awake. A scholarly professor held that "complete annihilation," the chemical change called death, is a sufficient reward for those who are good and heroically unselfish.

What kind of cowardice is this shrinking from life? Who wants to be a scientist if science makes one afraid of the universe in which we live? Who wants to be a philosopher if philosophy gives him nothing but a passing show, from which one would be grateful to be released into nothing?

A questionnaire was sent to a large group of ministers, and when returned revealed that 54 per cent did not believe there is a devil. In the wake of this information comes the startling statement that in the United States last year, 22,000 men and women in various walks of life were afraid to live and committed suicide.

More than half of the college freshmen which I contacted tell me that they have contemplated suicide. In these days of overwhelming revelations and social anxieties, it is vitally necessary that the human spirit be renewed. Certainly this renewal must come from some other source than the fears and doubts of those who quake and quiver when confronted by the problems of life as they are today.

was presented by Mrs. Frank Girard, Mr. A. Mathews, L. Hornstedt and Mrs. E. Falk, from Kenosha. Mrs. Falk gave several readings. Mr. Mathews, accompanied by Mrs. Girard, the vocal selections; and Mr. Hornstedt accompanied by Mrs. Girard, violin numbers. Refreshments were served and games played after the program. The committee in charge of the affair were Messrs. Ray Bufton, Alfred Reynolds and George Higgins.

Sunday evening, Feb. 25, there will be a 500 and bunco party for the Holy Name Church at the Selbert Hotel in Salem. The party is sponsored by six of the Salem ladies: Mesdames Mat Selbert, Bruno Palanin, Gregor Zillhofer, Fred Fox, John Schlar and Albert Epping. Refreshments will be served. The public is invited.

There will be English services at 9:30 Sunday at the Lutheran church and German luten services at two in the afternoon. English luten services will be held at eight o'clock every Wednesday evening during Lent.

Eleven dollars and fourteen cents was collected for the Indian and Negro missions at the Holy Name church Sunday.

The basket ball team was defeated at Palmyra Friday evening by Palmyra 17-15. The basket ball season closes here Friday night with Clinton.

Dwight Warner of the Wisconsin State Board of Health spent last Tuesday morning in our school discussing problems of Social Hygiene with groups of boys from the seventh grade up.

The Junior class has selected the following one act plays: "Nancy Orr's Day," and "Thanks Awfully," to be presented Friday evening, March 16 at the gymnasium.

The Girls' Dramatic Club held a meeting last Thursday evening, and The Future Farmers of America held their meeting Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mills were out from Chicago on Sunday for the day with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rudolph.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Runkel, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Runkel and Mrs. A. Runkel of Wheatland were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McDougall.

Warren Kauls spent Saturday at Silver Lake with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holdorf.

Mrs. William Stensell and son, Lawrence Stensell were at the Kenosha hospital Thursday to visit the former's brother, Albert Hanke, who

LAKE VILLA PATRONS
HEAR TAX DISCUSSION
AT P.T.A. MEETINGCar Breaks Through Ice—
Goes to Bottom of Cedar Lake

The P.T.A. meeting at the school house was well attended Monday evening and after the regular business was disposed of, including mention of a physical examination of all pupils by a county nurse, Dr. Waldman, eye, ear and throat specialist, Dr. Nehls, local dentist, and Dr. Glindich, local physician, sponsored by the P.T.A., the question of taxes for the non-high school districts was discussed. F. M. Hamlin, L. O. Bright of Antioch H. S. and C. C. Claxton of Grant H. S. were present and led the discussion besides presenting facts which people have not generally known or inquired into. A petition is being circulated to provide adequate taxation for pupils of non-high school districts. L. O. Bright gave an address on "The Adolescent Age," and Clara Harmon and Mary Pinch entertained with a tap dance, while Bojan Hamlin played two piano numbers in her usual capable manner. The committee served doughnuts and coffee and the group enjoyed a social time after the meeting.

A party of young men from Chicago seeking adventure last Saturday found it when the car in which they had been enjoying riding on the ice of Cedar Lake went to the bottom in 30 or 40 feet of water. The ice had grown rather soft in the mild weather and the car ran into a crack, and in trying to get out of this crack, the car sank deeper and deeper in spite of all efforts to save it. It was a last year's Ford in splendid condition, so is quite a loss.

A Treat From Victorian Days

By Jane Rogers

TAKE a tip from the vogue for the customs of our Victorian forebearers. When the children clamor for "something to eat" in mid-afternoon give them that good, old-fashioned delicacy a piece of bread and butter liberally sprinkled with brown sugar. It's economical, chock full of energy, and the children will greet it with cheers just as their grandparents used to in the days when Victoria was queen.

Sunshine Through Lace Curtains
Makes Charming Light

READING in brilliant sunlight wrecks the strongest eyes, yet no home is complete if the sun is shut out. So it is with a breath of relief that we welcome the renewed popularity of lace and net for glass curtains.

The recent return of Grandmother's black walnut and wax flowers to the drawing room probably first brought back her precious Nottingham glass curtains too. The lucky grandchild who finds them intact has a treasure, but for those who must replace them with modern reproductions, there are adaptations that are perhaps more consistent with the living room of today.

In any case, old or new, lace and net solve the sun problem. At last we can see through our windows, the sun can warm our rooms and delight our souls, yet it is diffused by the open mesh of net, so that the room isn't a checker board of black and white. Instead there is a strong even light that extends into the darkest corner.

Over-drapes lately seem to be more tailored than in previous years—partly due to the vogue for simple modern lines in everything. It is natural, therefore, that the glass curtain should carry some of the burden of decoration.

The new net curtains have appeared with lacy figures silhouetted against the light. They are simple and graceful in design—sometimes merely a diagonal or group of horizontal bands. However, they are always planned with the complete window in mind, not as a small repeat, as is the case of material by the yard. Often a leaf pattern or vine climbs up the wide hems, and the center is plain.

FORD TO BUILD HUGE EXPOSITION
AT THE 1934 CHICAGO WORLD'S FAIR

(Round table)

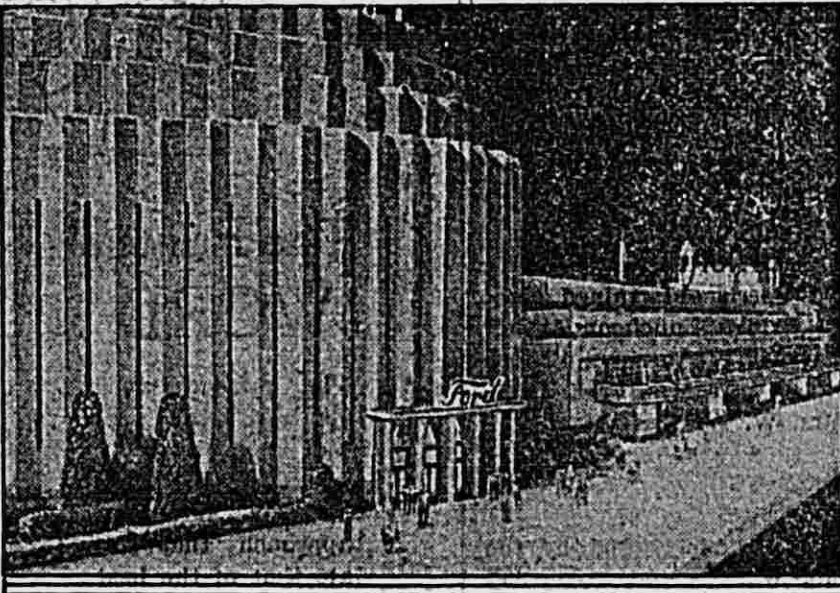

A GREAT Ford Exposition, portraying the tremendous part the arts, sciences and virtually every other industry plays in the manufacture of today's motor cars, is planned by the Ford Motor Company for the 1934 World's Fair.

The Ford Exposition will be housed in a giant building 860 feet long to be built in the heart of the fair grounds on an 11-acre plot bordering Lake Michigan and flanking the main fair boulevard. Construction of the building will start Mar. 1.

In the dominant central building will be housed Henry Ford's "Drama of Transportation," depicting the development of wheeled vehicles from the chariots of ancient Egypt to modern motor cars. Every model of Ford car made since 1903 will be included.

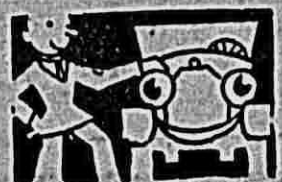

In the smaller building to the left will be housed some of the priceless historic exhibits from the Edison Institute at Dearborn, Mich., including the one-story brick workshop, complete with the original tools, where Mr. Ford in 1893 built with his own hands his first motor car. This first car will be displayed inside the shop.

The main exposition building will

Henry Ford and Edsel B. Ford show to Rufus C. Dawes (center), president of the World's Fair, the scale model of the giant Ford Exposition building to be built at the 1934 Fair. (Lower) The Ford building as it will be seen from Lake Michigan drive. Opposite the building will be a huge park bordering Lake Michigan.

display an imposing array of exhibits, most of them in action, show how steel, aluminum and other metals, soy beans, corn, wool, cotton and other farm products and the products of myriad industries are converted into car parts. The building also will house displays of cars and a big movie theater. Along the east side will be an open-air balcony equipped with chairs and lounges where hundreds may relax. Across the drive fronting the lake will be a big Ford Park, beautifully landscaped and also fitted with seats and other comforts for fair crowds.

"Soul" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 18. The Golden Text was, "Rejoice in the Lord, for he will give you strength." (Psalm 124:8).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "How available are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts! My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God. For the Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly." (Psalm 84:1, 2, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul and Spirit being one, God and Soul are one, and this one never included in a limited mind or a limited body. Spirit is eternal, divine. Nothing but Spirit, Soul, can evolve Life. For Spirit is immortal, it does not exist in mortality." (p. 335).

G. S. Seconds Place Third In Basketball Tourney

Antioch grade school basketball lightweights came through the third annual Northern Lake County G. S. Conference tournament for third place, after defeating Lake Villa 13-5 at Grayslake last Thursday night.

Graylake walked off with both the heavyweight and lightweight championships, followed by Gurnee and Fox Lake first teams, and Fox Lake and Antioch second teams.

The Antioch lineup was as follows: Roger Brogan, Wendell Nelson, Roger Williams, Maurice Verkest, Winsor Dalgaard, Charles Hostetter, Robert Strang, Charles Smith, George Bartlett, Bobby Burke, and Virgil Horton. Nelson and Brogan were the chief basket-sinkers for Antioch. Brogan hitting the ring for two field goals and two free throws, and Nelson for two field goals and one free throw. Roger Williams also made a field goal.

R. E. Clabaugh, principal, said this week that as most of the players are seventh graders, he is anticipating producing a first rate team next year.

Third grade pupils are busy collecting and constructing materials for a miniature post office, including a number of boxes, labels, dials, and a stamp collection. Each year the third grade carries out a similar project, constructing a clever dress shop last year.

Miss Cornelia Roberts and Miss Ruth Chinn attended the committee meeting and luncheon of the Suburban Deans' Association held at the Central Elmore Club, Stevens Building, Chicago. A decision was made on the subjects to be discussed at the annual meeting next spring.

Fifth grade students received shell souvenirs and valentines from Jeanette Whitel, Lakeland, Florida, last week.

The Brave Can Forgive
The brave only know how to forgive; it is the most refined and generous of virtues. It is the mark of a great soul. It is the mark of a great heart. It is the mark of a great mind. It is the mark of a great spirit. It is the mark of a great man.

Romance Everywhere
One constantly hears that "the romance of discovery is dead." But nothing could be farther from the truth. YOUR "LIGHT BILL"

Once a month a meter reader calls at your home and reads your electric meter. A few days later a bill comes covering the electricity used in the preceding 30 days. Most people call it their "light bill." As a matter of fact, it's much more than that. Electricity does much more than illuminate the average home; it sweeps rugs, runs a radio, washes and irons clothes. It makes toast, bakes waffles, warms up drafty corners. Often it provides healthful refrigeration, mixes food, ventilates the kitchen, tells accurate time.

Electric service makes homes more comfortable for the whole family. It makes home chores easier for the homemaker. And its cost is but a small item in the home budget.

PROPER WASHING AND DRYING OF WOOLENS INSURES FLUFFINESS

Advise Against Hot or Cold Water, Rubbing, or Strong Soaps

This wintry weather seems a particularly appropriate time for a discussion on washing woolens in the approved method so that the utmost fluffiness is gained. Fluffiness is but counts in keeping out the cold. Woolen materials should never be washed in lukewarm water, in suds the west side of the soap or soap day night, when the water and then adding in flames as a result to reduce the temperature. Lantern, said to be very soiled articles two or three by a goat. Shandon had, or apply a sudsy brush to shortly afterborn spots.

Discover Avoid rubbing. When clean, rinse several times in lukewarm water. Blow drying, out of a too hot sun or on a gusty wind, is considered best, with the atmosphere about room temperature.

If the blankets have a colored stripe they should be hung vertically, so that the color will run into the stripe instead of the body of the blanket.

Silk bindings may be cleaned by squeezing soap water through them, or rubbing gently with a brush. They may be pressed out under a damp cloth after the blanket it dried. A clean whisk broom will raise the nap and restore the blanket to its original fluffiness.

Woolen garments should be kept in shape while drying by means of wire frames, wooden forms, cardboard frames, or by pinning the garment in shape on a heavy towel and drying slowly on a flat surface. Never put woolens on a radiator or near a stove.

Sweaters turn out best if measured before washing, and spreading to original shape for drying.

Flannels Require Similar Care Flannels are to be treated with the same methods as woolens. When flannels are still damp, however, they can be ironed on the wrong side over a Turkish towel, and brushed up afterwards.

In drying quilts which are filled with wool, an occasional shifting of the position will prevent the tendency to lump.

Blankets can be kept fresher and cleaner by exposing them to the fresh air and mild sunshine, before an open window or in the open air.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director of Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

Perfect Attendance Records

I can't seem to leave this subject. Last week I wrote with a touch of realism. Behind it there is a very real feeling that we are guilty of doing the child a grave injustice. We worship at the shrine of Perfect Attendance, parents aiding and abetting. Schools compete against one another in stirring contests, and their adherents eagerly seek out the monthly standing report in the newspaper. We even apportion school-aid money on a basis of pupil attendance.

Throughout it all the child, whom we vow to protect, is helpless. Aches, pains, coughs notwithstanding, he must go to school. And to make it attractive, we set traps with pretty bait which may be a gold star, an early dismissal, a prize, picture in the paper, or one of many others. Then we wonder how epidemics start. "Where did Johnny catch the measles?" "Right at school!" is the answer altogether too frequently. We are placing health too far down on the list of essentials. It should be "Health First, Then Knowledge."

Next week Dr. Ireland will discuss hearing.

Kidney Beans

1 tablespoon minced onion, if desired
1 tablespoon Heinz prepared mustard

1/2 cup grated American cheese.
Line a buttered casserole with well seasoned mashed potatoes, saving out enough for top. Place in prepared casserole the beans combined with onion. Spread beans with mustard. Cover with remaining mashed

Washington's Country Is Sound At The Core

AFTER all, this country is sound at the core. It has survived under its present form of government for a hundred and forty-five years, a longer period under an unchanged form of government than any other country in the world. So there is no reason why we shouldn't celebrate the two hundred and second birthday of the man who is universally known as the father of this country as joyfully and confidently this year as in any year of the past. George Washington was born on February 22, 1732. Let's make February 22, 1934, a ringing reminder of that fact!

Washington was famous as a military man and an executive, but before that he was famous as a surveyor. Why not be original, and record this fact both in the setting of the table and the fun at your party? Have a miniature surveyor's level, set on its tripod, as your centerpiece, and call about it a surveyor's chain. Garland these with flowers to make them decorative, and have cherry favors and hatchet place cards for each guest. This will give your table a Washington atmosphere, and at the same time introduce a new note.

Games That Are Fun

It is a well-known fact that people's eyes are never exactly on a level. One is always set higher than the other. Get your guests at dinner to guess which eye of each person is the highest, and make a record of their guesses. After dinner the hostess can take a surveyor's level from the table, and look through it at her guests, pretending to solve correctly this momentous question. Those who have guessed wrong according to her decision must pay a forfeit. Another guessing game is distances. Have your guests guess the length of the living room or of the hall, or even the width of the street and sidewalk seen through the window. Then make your measurements with the surveyor's chain, each link of which is 7.92 inches long. This will lead to some lively mathematics, and the guest who has come closest in his estimate wins a prize.

Washington who "could not tell a lie" also suggests the old game of truth in which you must answer, as truthfully as possible, "yes" or "no" to every question propounded to you. The catch lies in asking questions like "Have you stopped drinking too much?" "Do you still beat your wife?" or "Have you stopped stealing apples?" the answers to which are equally incriminating, whether they be "yes" or "no."

A Delicious Dinner

Sardine and Asparagus Canapés
Baked Virginia Ham
Mustard Pickles
Glazed Sweet Potatoes and Pineapple
Pan Fried Stringless Beans
Corn Sticks or Biscuits
Cucumber, Radish and Celery Salad
Washington Pie or Tarts filled with Cherry Sundae
Coffee

Your dinner should be of the sort that preserves the Washington atmosphere and that will stay long in the memory of your guests. The foregoing menu includes ham from Washington's native State and a pie named after him, or, as an alternative, the traditional cherries served in tarts. Here are some of the recipes for it.

Sardine and Asparagus Canapés: Cream two tablespoons butter. Mash the contents of a 4-ounce can of boneless and skinless sardines. Mix together to a smooth paste, and add lemon juice, paprika and Worcestershire sauce to taste. Spread on long narrow toast fingers. Drain a can of asparagus tips, dip each in mayonnaise so that it is completely covered, and lay one tip lengthwise on each canapé. Cross with strips of pimiento, if desired. That makes them prettier. The recipe makes from twelve to sixteen canapés.

Glazed Sweet Potatoes and Pineapple: Turn the contents of a No. 2 or 2 1/2 can of sliced pineapple, a few cloves and one-half cup white or brown sugar into a pan, and cook gently for about ten minutes, basting the pineapple slices occasionally. Remove slices and pour syrup over four cold boiled sweet potatoes which have been cut in halves lengthwise and laid in a shallow pan. Add one-half cup white or brown sugar, dot with four tablespoons butter, and bake for about half an hour, basting often. Then lay pineapple slices on top, baste them with the syrup, and return to oven long enough to reheat thoroughly. Serves eight.

COUNTY CANDIDATES--

dates in the race for county office.

In years past the Republican primary was the whole show in Lake county, and when the "also rans" were counted out in April it was all over but the shouting and the mere formality of counting ballots in November. Now the political complexion of the county has changed, Democrats aver, and they are backing up their belief by launching earnest and enthusiastic campaigns, and expressing every confidence that Democracy is in to stay and that the Jeffersonian candidates will be victorious in the November election.

Stalwarts are Confident

While the Democratic victory in 1932 most certainly created grave doubts of county supremacy in the minds of many Republicans, the stalwarts of the G. O. P. declare that the wave of Democracy that passed over Lake county was but a temporary disturbance due to the great national unrest, and that this year when the smoke of the conflict of ballots clears, Lake county will again be found safe within the fold of the G. O. P.

Not only does the Democratic donkey appear on the political horizon as a menace to Republican office holders who are seeking reelection, but six of the seven Republican incumbents are faced this year with opposition in their own party.

Peace Effort Fails

Notwithstanding the recent Democratic victory, old guard Republicans do not regard the Jeffersonian bid for permanent supremacy especially menacing, because of the Democratic leaders' failure to mend the rift that has existed in their ranks. The two opposing factions, split mainly on the matter of county patronage, are headed by John O'Keefe, chairman of the Lake County Democratic Central Committee, and Judge Clarence Goodwin, head of the Lake County Democratic Society, known as the Goodwin faction.

Information from reliable sources is to the effect that neither Goodwin nor O'Keefe looked with favor upon a plan submitted this week for merging the two factions into one harmonious whole. The plan as proposed, was that the Democratic Society should give up its headquarters and declare its allegiance to the central committee. In turn the central committee was to recognize the leaders of the Democratic Society and reward them for their efforts.

With the failure of this latest effort to effect "honorable peace," there is little hope for complete harmony in Democratic ranks until after the April primaries when it is expected that newly elected precinct committeemen will give one of the factions complete control of the organization.

Sees "New Deal" in County

"Change is in the air, and a new deal is due, whether Democratic or Republican," an aspirant for county office stated to the News yesterday. The candidate expressed the belief that over half of the present officeholders would be unseated in the 1934 elections.

County Judge Perry L. Persons, Republican incumbent, is opposed in his own party by Harry Hall, Waukegan attorney. The Democratic entrants are A. C. McHenry, Waukegan lawyer, who two years ago made the race for state's attorney and acquired a wide and very favorable acquaintance throughout the county, and Phillip J. McKenna, Highland Park man who is said to be comparatively unknown in legal circles here as he is unlisted as a practicing attorney at the county seat.

Talcott Opposes Hendee

The campaign for county clerk looms as one of the most interesting contests in the county.

Low A. Hendee, veteran incumbent and an office holder of many years standing, will be opposed in the G. O. P. primaries by Mancel Talcott, Waukegan postmaster, who is head of the American Red Cross society and one of the most prominent world war veterans in the county. On the Democratic side, Russ Alford, popular assessor of Waukegan township, is to be unopposed in the primary. Due to the fact that he will go to the November election with a solid Democratic vote behind him, Alford is certain to offer formidable opposition to his Republican opponent, whoever he may be.

Ten for Probate Office

Five entrants have filed for probate judge. The incumbent, Judge

Martin Decker, has two Republican opponents, it will be noted from the list of candidates, and two Democrats will vie for nomination in the primary.

John R. Bullock, veteran clerk of the probate court, also has two opponents in his own party, and two aspirants seek the Democratic nomination.

Competition is keenest, at least at the start of the campaign, for the offices of treasurer and sheriff. The fact that neither incumbent may be re-elected for a succeeding term has drawn a small army of candidates for these important county posts.

12 Seek Tiffany's Badge

Six aspirants, three Republicans and three Democrats, seek the treasurer's badge to be relinquished by J. B. Morse, who has announced his retirement from politics, and 12 have a yen to wear the star of Sheriff Lester T. Tiffany, who by law must relinquish his badge of authority at the close of one term in office. Four Republicans and eight Democrats have started in the race, with but three or four of the aspirants being conceded a chance of victory at the outset. However, astute politicians have been known to change their minds and the campaign may develop a "dark horse" that will upset the carefully figured political dope.

County Superintendent W. C. Petty, up for reelection, will have smooth sailing as the sole G. O. P. candidate in the primary. Frank DeYoe, North Chicago, Democrat, is also without opposition for nomination for this office.

Candidates for precinct committeemen have until March 1 to file their petitions.

ing the Civil War when no help could be obtained. She and her husband lived on the Will Hucker farm southwest of town.

Traveling in those days was difficult, and with the exception of her childhood trip from New York and visits to Iowa, Mrs. Emmons has been content to reside in Antioch, and with have taken place in transportation, communication, and general conveniences. She experienced her first auto ride, when she went to Rockford, some time before the World War.

Need for a doctor fifty years ago was a serious thing, as it meant hitching up the horse and buggy and driving to Millburn.

Is in Good Health

Mrs. Emmons now makes her home with her daughter, Miss Alice Emmons, on Lake street. Another daughter, Mrs. L. B. Grice, also survives and is one of four children born to her. Her husband passed away July 17, 1927, at the age of 90 years, after they had enjoyed sixty years of wedded happiness.

This fine old lady takes an active interest in community and civic affairs, and never misses a day reading the newspapers and keeping informed on current events.

Until her serious illness last spring when she suffered from butterfly erysipelas, a disease which usually proves fatal, she enjoyed the best of health, but at that time her hearing was impaired, and it was necessary to cut all her hair. However, she has a fine new growth at the present time. She is thankful for her present good health, and appears in the best of spirits, although regretting that she cannot attend the Christian Church as formerly.
